

PROJECT FOCUS

.....

To develop methods for evaluating the initial impact of the Food is the Best Medicine Program pilot and identify ways it can be improved and/or expanded to support families more effectively.

KEY ACTIVITIES & DELIVERABLES

- .....
- Collaborated with program lead, social workers and patient staff to identify additional data points for tracking and measuring short-term outcomes associated with the FBM program
  - Refined existing and developed new tools and methodologies for evaluating the program
  - Spearheaded efforts to expand FBM into a unique and effective food access program involving 3 - 4 community partners

Ascension

Seton Fund

Recently launched by the Ascension Texas Council on Racial and Health Equity (ATCORHE), with substantial support from The Seton Fund, Food is the Best Medicine (FBM) is a food prescription program that supports perinatal patients experiencing food insecurity.

CONNECT FELLOW

CHRISTOPHER REYES

MASTER'S CANDIDATE
 UTHEALTH SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH