

PROJECT FOCUS

To improve No More, No Más' ability to track and measure the outcomes of two of its primary programming areas: counseling and education services and trauma-informed care education and training.

KEY ACTIVITIES & DELIVERABLES

- Conducted stakeholder interviews to articulate impact of NMNM services and identify asset-based language
- Developed two new NMNM program logic models using finding from stakeholder interviews
- Designed pre- and post-program assessment surveys for counseling and education services and trauma-informed care training programs
- Built a KPI data dashboard/output monitoring tool
- Developed an organizational-level Theory of Change and impact presentation slide deck

No More, No Más

No More, No Más (NMNM) provides family violence services to women in the greater Travis County area. It supports healthy lifestyle choices and is dedicated to rebuilding and reunifying those relationships torn apart by domestic violence, sexual assault, and substance abuse. NMNM provides a safe space for educating and training individuals and families in need of its support.
